The pace and itinerary activities were all spectacular. Martine is easy going, knowledgeable and there to make sure everything goes smoothly and everyone has the very best time! All guides and staff were experts in their respective areas and paced activities for the group. Small group size is ideal for a truly unique and memorable vacation! E. Patrick, Grand Haven, MI May, 2017

The weather, the landscape and towns, the company, the cooking, tasting, eating, were so enjoyable. How did you get all of those variables to conspire with you to make a great trip?" D. Aarons, Newtown, PA May 2016

Everyday was a grand beginning for me. I felt I got a good sense of the French culture. From start to finish it was "parfait!" Thanks for the memories which will last a lifetime! J. Adams, Denver, CO June 2016

My recent trip to Provence with Martine was more than exceptional. Staying in the Luberon was a delight. The beautiful town in which we stayed had many attractions close by including splendid restaurants, cafes and a boulangerie and a weekly market. Martine planned daily trips, which included visits to vineyards, cooking classes, Roman ruins, markets and many surrounding villages/towns where we enjoyed the local atmosphere. Having a fluent French-speaking guide enabled us to relax and enjoy all visits and trips without the use of a guide book or dictionary. This was a trip to remember and I will be doing it again as soon as possible." A. Kendler London, England June, 2014

My small group travel experience with Gout et Voyage was a wonderful mix of charming Provencal villages, tempting restaurants and cooking classes. The perfect itinerary was a nice view of life in Provence with like-minded fellow travelers. M. Dischinger, Jamison, PA May 2016

"Martine" knows how to make people happy. I was happy every day and looked forward to a new adventure. M. Wineburg, Denver, CO June 2016
